

Privacy Policy

As a non-commercial website focused on providing free education to the world, Serendip is committed to creating a safe and secure environment for all our users.

Serendip recognizes and respects the privacy of all website users, students and teachers. This policy describes the types of information we may collect from you or that you may provide when you visit our website <http://serendipstudio.org> and our practices for collecting, using, maintaining, protecting and disclosing that information.

This policy only applies to the information Serendip collects on our website. It does not apply to information collected by us offline or by any other means, nor does this policy apply to any information collected by any third party, including through any application or content that may link to or be accessible from or on our website. Your browsing and interaction on any other website, including websites to which Serendip links, is subject to that website's own rules and policies. Please review those policies and rules before proceeding as Serendip does not make any representations about the policies of any organization or website to which we link and disclaims any liability or responsibility for such other website's content, rules or policies.

This website is operated in the United States, and the information collected through it may be retained indefinitely, and may be stored, accessed, or used in jurisdictions whose privacy laws may be different, or less protective, than those of your home jurisdiction.

Types of Information We Collect

Serendip collects two types of information on our website: (1) personal information you knowingly and voluntarily provide that is collected on an individual basis, and (2) website use information collected automatically, and on an aggregate basis, as you and others navigate through our website.

Personal Information You Provide to Us. The information we collect on or through our website may include information that you provide by submitting forms on our website.

Website Use Information. Serendip uses cookies on this website. As you navigate through and interact with our website, we may automatically collect certain information about your computer hardware and software. This information can include: your IP address, browser type, domain names, access times and referring website addresses.

This website is designed for persons 13 years of age and older. We do not knowingly collect information from children under the age of 13.

How We Use Your Information

We may use information that we collect about you or that you voluntarily provide to us to present our website and its contents to you, to provide you with the services that you requested, and to notify you about any Serendip events or other information related to Serendip's mission. If you wish to opt-out or unsubscribe from any Serendip services, please contact us through our contact form.

Information Disclosure

Serendip does not rent, sell or share any personal information about individual users with any third party except to provide the services you have requested. Serendip may disclose your personal information to comply with any court order, law or legal process, including to respond to any government or regulatory request. We reserve the right to disclose your personal information if required to do so by law, or in the good faith belief that such action is reasonably necessary to comply with the legal process.

Security

We have implemented measures designed to secure your personal information from unauthorized use, alteration and disclosure.

Your Consent

By accessing or using our website, you consent to the collection and use of information by Serendip as outlined in our privacy policy. This policy may change from time to time. Updates to the policy will be posted on this privacy policy page. Continued use of our website after we make changes is deemed to be acceptance of those changes.
